Limits of use

Sectigo does not set reliance limits for timestamp services, however reliance limits may be set by applicable law or by agreement. The Sectigo TSA assures time with ± 1 second of a trusted UTC time source.

If a trusted UTC time source cannot be acquired the time stamp will not be issued. Sectigo maintains secure records concerning the operation of the qualified TSA

according to the legal requirements for the purpose of providing evidence in legal proceedings

Obligations of subscribers

Subscribers must verify that the time-stamp token has been correctly signed and check the Sectigo validation services (i.e., CRL) to confirm that the private key used to sign the time-stamp token has not been compromised.

Subscribers must use secure cryptographic functions for time-stamping requests or software toolkit to create time-stamps. Subscribers must inform its end users (including any relevant Relying Parties) about the Sectigo policies and practices documentation.

Obligations of relying parties

Before placing any reliance on a Time-Stamp, relying parties must verify that the TST has been correctly signed and that the associated TSU certificate has not been revoked.

If this verification takes place after the end of the validity period of the certificate, the Relying Party should follow the guidance denoted in Annex D of ETSI EN 319 421. The Relying Party should take into account any limitations on usage of the time-stamp indicated by the TSPPS, the Time-Stamping Authority Subscriber Agreement and any other documentation provided by Sectigo.

Therefore, the provision of the time stamping service does not discharge the subscriber from analysing and verifying the legal or regulatory requirements applicable to it.

Sectigo cannot be held liable:

- in case of an unauthorised or non-compliant use (with the legal and contractual requirements) of the time stamps, the revocation information as well as the equipment or software made available for the provision of the service.
